

Good Afternoon Fellow PCEA Members,

I hope all of you are doing well, enjoying this wonderful weather we are having and our beloved Panthers being on a 2-game win streak. It almost makes you forget the challenging year that is 2020.

This year's golf tournament held a week ago today was a raging success. Special thanks to Steve Dickerman for taking the lead on putting that together. Congratulations to the Airo Mechanical team for posting a low gross score of 49 and thanks to all that participated in that event. I think we've found a new home for our annual tournament at Emerald Lake! Rodd Workman will be getting those pictures posted on our website and all of our social media accounts so check em out.

We are looking forward to our last regular meeting of the year next week with Fabio Ayala presenting a revolutionary idea that really takes a step in the use of technology in construction. If you plan to come, be sure and register on our website ASAP. We will be in our regular location in the Morehead Room at DNG so long as we don't go over their limit, in which case we will move it downstairs.

For November we are combining our Holiday Party and Member Appreciation event at TopGolf. Details are still being worked out, but look for that to go up on our website soon. This will be a member (and personal guest) only event and pre-registration will be mandatory to attend. This is to ensure we have ample space available. Each member will be entitled to bring one guest of their choice with them, who must also be registered with the member for the event at least 4 days prior.

I did hear last week from Taylor Wolcott (our past year's scholarship recipient and former Dilworth server). She will be starting her nursing career in January at Atrium-Main. Couldn't be prouder.

As always, if you have an interest in getting more involved in PCEA, getting a seat on the board is a great way to do that. Please let me know if you are interested. We can always use more board members.

All for now, hope to see you next week.
